Section 1.02 Successor Agent

If Agent #1 fails to serve, I appoint Agent #2 to serve as successor Agent.

Section 1.03 No Person under 21 Years of Age May Serve as Agent

No person named as my Agent or successor Agent may serve until that person has reached 21 years of age.

Section 1.04 Prior or Joint Agent Unable to Act

A successor Agent or an Agent serving jointly with another Agent may establish that the acting Agent or joint Agent is no longer able to serve as Agent by signing an affidavit that states that the Agent is not available or is incapable of acting. The affidavit may be supported by a death certificate of the Agent, a certificate showing that a guardian or conservator has been appointed for the Agent, a physician's letter stating that the Agent is incapable of managing his or her own affairs, or a letter from the Agent stating his or her unwillingness to act or delegating his or her power to the successor Agent.

Section 2.01 Effectiveness

The authority granted to my Agent under this power of attorney will only become effective if I am incapacitated.

For all purposes of this power of attorney, I am incapacitated in any one of the following circumstances:

I am incapacitated whenever two licensed physicians provide written opinions that I cannot effectively manage my property or financial affairs due to age; illness; use of prescription medications, drugs or other substances; or any other cause.

I am restored to capacity whenever my personal or attending physician provides a written opinion that I can effectively manage my property and financial affairs.

Section 2.04 Durability

The authority granted to my Agent under this power of attorney will not be affected by my subsequent disability, incompetency, incapacity, or lapse of time.

If this power of attorney becomes operative because of my disability or incapacity and if the authority granted to my Agent becomes effective because of my incapacity and I am restored to capacity as evidenced in the manner provided above, this power of attorney is not revoked but my Agent's power is no longer effective. My Agent's power will become effective again only upon my subsequent incapacity as provided above.

All powers granted to my Agent under this power of attorney are subject to the limitations set forth in this Article.

Section 6.01 Tax Sensitive Powers

No individual serving as my Agent may exercise any fiduciary power or discretion if the exercise of that power or discretion would:

cause any distribution made or allowed to be made by my Agent to be treated as a gift from my Agent; or

Short and Long POA Forms

Activity #3: Understanding the Forms

- Using both short and long forms
 - Group 1:
 - Identify "Effectiveness", pros/cons and areas for potential for abuse
 - Durable? General? Springing POA?
 - Group 2:
 - Identify "Incapacity" and pros/cons
 - Identify the ability to regain capacity

Various Powers Often Granted by a Financial Power of Attorney

- Create, amend, revoke, or terminate a revocable trust
- Make a gift
- Create or change rights of survivorship
- Create or change a beneficiary designation
- Authorize another person to exercise authority under this Power of Attorney

Conservatorship - Alternative to Financial Power of Attorney

Conservatorship is a very effective way to have power over an individual who is incapacitated that creates court oversight of the Agent's actions rather than a private document that grants this immense power.

Conservatorships

Handled in the probate court.

- Probate court has legal authority to make decisions about life and property of a conservatee. When a judge appoints a conservator, the court's authority to care for the conservatee is partly delegated to the conservator, under the court's supervision.

General/Limited conservatorship; in addition, a Temporary conservatorship may need to be set up until a permanent conservator can be appointed.

- In a Limited Conservatorship, for adults with developmental disabilities who cannot fully care for themselves or their property, but do not need the higher level of care or help that is given under a general conservatorship. The judge gives a limited conservator authority to take care of specific aspects of the conservatee's life and no others;
- In a General Conservatorship, the general conservator has authority to take care of a broad range of the conservatee's needs

ADVANCE HEALTH CARE DIRECTIVE

(California Probate Code Section 4701)

PART 1 - POWER OF ATTORNEY FOR HEALTH CARE

(1.1) DESIGNATION OF HEALTH CARE AGENT: I, _____, designate the individuals named below to serve as my Health Care Agents to make decisions with regard to my health care if and when I am unable to make my own health care decisions.

Name: _____

If _____ is unable or not reasonably available to make health care decisions for me, I designate the individual listed below as my Successor Health Care Agent, consecutively in the order listed. A Successor Agent shall serve if any preceding designated Agent is unable or reasonably unavailable to serve as my Health Care Agent:

Name: _____

Name: _____

(1.2) AGENT'S AUTHORITY: My Agent designated in this instrument, including any successor Agent, if available and willing to make health care decisions on my behalf, shall have priority over any other person to act for me in all matters of health care decisions where I am unable to give informed consent with respect to such decisions. Nothing in this Directive shall affect any right my Agent may have, apart from this Directive, to make or participate in the making of health care decisions on my behalf. Moreover, this Directive does not affect the right any person may have to make health care decisions on my behalf if my Agent and any successor Agent are unavailable, unwilling, or unable to make health care decisions on my behalf. (This Directive also does not affect the law governing health care treatment in an emergency.) I desire that my wishes as expressed in this Directive, especially my wishes as to the withholding and withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment, be carried out through the authority given to my Agent in this Directive despite any contrary feelings, beliefs, or opinions of members of my family, relatives, friends, or conservator. My Agent shall have authority over my health care decisions even if someone else is appointed by a court to act as conservator of my person or estate. My agent is authorized to make all health care decisions for me, including decisions to provide, withhold, or withdraw artificial nutrition and hydration and all other forms of health care to keep me alive, in accordance with my instructions herein.

(1.3) WHEN AGENT'S AUTHORITY BECOMES EFFECTIVE: My agent's authority to make health care decisions for me takes effect immediately if and when I am unable to make my own health care decisions. By signing this document, I intend to create an advance health care directive under the Health Care Decisions Law, Sections 4600 through 4805 of the California Probate Code. I hereby revoke any and all prior advance health care directives or powers of attorney for health care signed by me.

(1.4) AGENT'S DUTY TO FOLLOW MY WISHES OR ACT IN BEST INTEREST: If I am unable to communicate instructions and my wishes are otherwise unknown or unclear, my Agent should make health care decisions for me guided by any preferences that I may have previously expressed and the information given by the physicians treating me as to my medical diagnosis and prognosis. My Agent should make health care decisions for me in accordance with my best interest, to be determined by my Agent after considering the benefits, burdens, and risks that might result from a given course of treatment, and in accordance with and any instructions I give in Part 2 of this form. In determining my best interest, my Agent shall consider my personal values to the extent known to my Agent. To the extent my wishes are unknown, my agent shall make health care decisions for me in accordance with what my agent determines to be in my best interest.

(1.5) AGENT'S POST-DEATH AUTHORITY: My agent is authorized to make anatomical gifts, authorize an autopsy, and direct disposition of my remains, except as I state here or in Part 3 of this form: [If you want to limit the authority of your agent to consent to an autopsy, make an anatomical gift, or direct the disposition of your remains, you must state the limitations here.]

 _____ (Attach additional sheets if necessary)

(1.6) NOMINATION OF CONSERVATOR: If a conservator of my person needs to be appointed for me by a court, I nominate the agent designated in this form. If that agent is not willing, able, or reasonably available to act as conservator, I nominate the alternate agents whom I have named, in the order designated.

PART 2 - INSTRUCTIONS FOR HEALTH CARE

Sign your name or initials by your choice. You may strike any wording you do not want

(2.1) END-OF-LIFE DECISIONS: I direct that my health care providers and others involved in my care provide, withhold, or withdraw treatment in accordance with the choice I have made below:

_____ (a) Choice Not To Prolong Life. (If the statement below reflects your desires, sign your name or initials here.) I wish to live and enjoy life as long as possible, but I do not wish to receive medical treatment that will provide minimal or no benefit to me and will only secure a precarious prolongation of my life which is burdensome to me. I do not want my life to be prolonged if (1) I have an incurable and irreversible condition that will result in my death within a relatively short time, (2) I become unconscious and, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, I will not regain consciousness, or (3) the likely risks and burdens of treatment would outweigh the expected benefits.

OR

_____ (b) Choice To Prolong Life. (If the statement below reflects your desires, sign your name or initials here.)

I want my life to be prolonged as long as possible within the limits of generally accepted health care standards.

OR

_____ (c) No Decision at this Time. (If the statement below reflects your desires, sign your name or initials here.)

I have intentionally not made any end-of-life decisions at this time. I realize that under Part 1 of this form my agent has the authority to determine what is best for me in making end-of-life decisions if I have not made specific instructions in Part 2 of this form.

(2.2) RELIEF FROM PAIN: Except as I state in the following space, I direct that treatment for alleviation of pain or discomfort be provided at all times, even if it hastens my death:

(Add additional sheets if needed)

Authorization for Release of Protected Health Information

HANDOUT #6

(Valid Authorization Under 45 CFR Chapter 164 and California Civil Code Section 56)

Statement of Intent: It is my understanding that Congress passed a law entitled the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (“HIPAA”) that limits use, disclosure or release of my health information (or, sometimes herein, “protected medical information”). I am signing this Authorization because it is crucial that my health care providers readily use, release or disclose my protected medical information to, or as directed by, that person or those persons designated in this Authorization to allow them to discuss with, and obtain advice from, others or to facilitate decisions regarding my health care when I otherwise may not be able to do so without regard to whether any health care provider has certified in writing that I am “incompetent” for purposes of California Probate Code Sections 4235, 4682 and 4690.

1. Appointment of Authorized Recipients

I, _____, an individual, hereby appoint the following persons, or any of them, as my Authorized Recipients for health care disclosure under the Standards for Privacy of Individually Identifiable Health Care Information (45 CFR Parts 160 and 164) under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (“HIPAA”), and as that term is defined by California Civil Code § 56.05(b)(referred to as my “Authorized Recipient”):

1. _____
2. _____

3. Grant of Authority:

Therefore, I authorize a health care provider (a “covered entity” as defined by HIPAA) to use, release and disclose my individually identifiable health information in accordance with and as authorized by 45 CFR Sec(s). 164.502(a)(1)(i) and (iv), 164.502(a)(2)(i), 164.524 and 164.528 and California Civil Code Section 56 Confidentiality of Medical Information Act (CMIA).

I specifically authorize all covered persons and entities as defined in HIPAA and CMIA, including but not limited to doctors (including but not limited to physicians, podiatrists, chiropractors, or osteopaths), psychiatrists, psychologists, dentists, therapists, nurses, hospitals, clinics, pharmacies, laboratories, ambulance services, assisted living facilities, residential care facilities, bed and board facilities, nursing homes, medical insurance companies or any other health care providers or affiliates:

1 of 3

- a. to use, release and disclose any of my protected medical information, including but not limited to, reports and/or records concerning my medical and psychiatric history, condition, diagnosis, testing, prognosis, treatment, billing information and identity of health care providers, whether past, present or future and any other information which is in any way related to my health care. Additionally, this disclosure shall include the ability to ask questions and discuss this protected medical information with the person or entity who has possession of the protected medical information even if I am fully competent to ask questions and discuss this matter at the time. It is my intention to give a full authorization for access to, disclosure and release of ANY protected medical information by or to the persons named in this Authorization as if each person were me;
- b. to, or as requested by, an Authorized Recipient.

4. Termination:

This Authorization is not affected by, and shall not terminate by reason of, my subsequent disability or incapacity. This Authorization shall terminate upon my death or my written revocation expressly referring to this Authorization and the date it is actually received by the covered entity. Proof of receipt of my written revocation may be by certified mail, registered mail, facsimile, or any other receipt evidencing actual receipt by the covered entity. Such revocation shall be effective upon the actual receipt of the notice by the covered entity except to the extent that the covered entity has taken action in reliance on it.

5. Re-disclosure:

By signing this Authorization, I acknowledge that the information used, disclosed or released pursuant to this Authorization may be subject to re-disclosure by the Authorized Recipients whose names are written in paragraph 1 of this Authorization and the information once disclosed will no longer be protected by the rules created in HIPAA and CMIA. No covered entity shall require my Authorized Recipients to indemnify the covered entity or agree to perform any act in order for the covered entity to comply with this Authorization.

6. Instructions to my Authorized Recipients:

My Authorized Recipients shall have the right to bring a legal action in any applicable forum against any covered entity that refuses to recognize and accept this Authorization for the purposes that I have expressed. Additionally, my Authorized Recipients are authorized to sign any documents that the Authorized Recipients deem appropriate to obtain use, disclosure or release of the protected medical information.

7. Valid Document:

A copy or facsimile of this original Authorization shall be accepted as though it was an original document.

8. My Waiver and Release:

I hereby release any covered entity that acts in reliance on this Authorization from any liability that may accrue from the use, release or disclosure of my protected medical information in reliance upon this Authorization and for any actions taken by my Authorized Recipients.

9. Severability:

I intend that this authorization conform to United States and California law. In the event that any provision of this document is invalid, the remaining provisions shall nonetheless remain in full force and effect.

I understand that I have the right to receive a copy of this authorization. I also understand that I have the right to revoke this authorization and that any revocation of this authorization must be in writing.

Richard has an irrevocable trust that was set up by his deceased wealthy wife Georgette. Georgette insisted on making the terms of the trust become irrevocable upon her death because she wanted to protect the principal of the assets for her four children by a prior marriage.

HANDOUT #10

Will #3

Will of Jane Smith

I, Jane Smith, declare this to be my last Will and Testament.

I am married to John Smith and we have one child, Mary Smith born on January 1, 2000.

I name John Smith as my Executor and if he is unable or unwilling, I name my Aunt Mary.

I give 10,000$ each to XYZ Beneficiaries. I give the rest of my estate to my husband John Smith if he is alive, and if not, all to my daughter Mary Smith. I direct my Executor to hold her money in a Trust until she is 25 years old.

I executed this Will on January 1, 2000.

Jane Smith

Helpful Hint:

Often when someone does their own trust, they do not know how to properly "fund" their trust, and may not have executed a pour-over will.

An unfunded trust or lack of other estate planning documents accompanying the Trust can be indicators that something is amiss.

Trust Promoters

There are many who call themselves "trust specialists," "certified planners" or other titles that suggest the person has received advanced training in estate planning.

- California is experiencing an explosion of promotions by unqualified individuals and entities which only have one real goal—to gain access to our elders' finances in order to sell insurance-based products such as annuities and other commission-based products.
- They often offer a package deal of estate planning as well as the financial product they are trying to sell.

Final Red Flag Case Study

Jema created a living trust with Estate-Planning's R-Us, a company who gave a seminar at Jema's retirement community and advertised themselves as a "full service" estate planning firm. Leo was the attorney who drafted the trust for Jema at her bedside because she was now bedridden. Leo advised her that she should list Leo's partner Sami as her Financial POA and Successor trustee because Sami is a private fiduciary and Jema has no family members that she could trust to be her successor trustee.

- The compensation for being a financial POA and successor trustee was listed as 5% annually of the assets. The Financial POA was effective immediately because Leo was worried about Jema's recent diagnosis of Dementia.
- Leo had Jema sign over the deed to her house to the Trust and helped her sign the new beneficiary designations of her retirement accounts to the Trust.
- After 6 months, Sami decided that the retirement facility was costing too much and moved Jema to an apartment and hired his nephew to care for Jema 24/7. You have been called in on a report of neglect for Jema and find her alone with no food in the house, unwashed and delirious.

Investigations and Documenting for Prosecution

- The better you are at interviewing - and documenting, the better chance your case has for conviction at trial.

Case Scenario: Theft from an Elder/Dependent Adult

AP5 received case from RP Bianca, neighbor of Francisco, 82 years old, who was diagnosed with stage 4 colon cancer and needs assistance with his ADLs. Bianca reported that Michelle, a member at Francisco's church, recently moved in to help him.

When Bianca was helping clean out and organize Francisco's office, she noticed multiple past due bill statements and bank statements with overdrawn charges dating back many months. Bianca suspects Michelle is withdrawing funds from Francisco's accounts.

Bianca has asked Francisco many times if he has a Medical and/or Financial Power of Attorney and he has responded that he does not. She was unable to find any estate planning documents in the office.

When Bianca asked Michelle about the withdrawals, Michelle stated that she considered it payback for her quitting her job to care for Francisco.

Locating Documents

- Trusts, Wills and FPOA's:
 - not "filed" so no great way to find them other than in client's possession
- HCPOA's:
 - Often filed at the doctor's office or hospital

- Grant deeds to houses:
 - Public at recorder's office
 - can see change in title and get name of trust and possibly the attorney from the recording information at the top

- Bank/Brokerage Accounts - may be titled in Trust name, checks may have trust name on address line.

Locating Documents - Confidentiality

Client's Attorney - Confidentiality is always an issue. If Client can authorize you to speak to attorney, can get access to documents.

Executing Financial Documents - Legal Capacity

Legal capacity and Clinical capacity:

- Legal=ability to make judgments about one's legal rights and responsibilities.
- Clinical=a judgment about one's functional abilities to care for themselves mentally or physically (for example food, clothing and shelter). This is a very low threshold.

Legal Capacity is part of one's Decision Making Capacity which can include:

- Sign a contract (purchase an annuity)
- Sign a will (testamentary capacity)
- Give away property/assets
- Medical decision making (take a medication, treat a condition, leave a facility)
- Identify alternative decision makers (DPOA, successor trustee, executor)

4 step Questioning Technique to Assess Capacity

1. Can the client understand relevant information?
 - * Do you know that you have a serious cut on your leg?
 - * Ask for options in open-ended question.
 - * "Tell me what you know about the purpose of a trust."
2. What is the quality of the client's thinking process?
 - * How can you get treatment for your wound?
 - * "How would you go about making changes to your will if need be?"
3. Is the client able to demonstrate and communicate a choice?
 - * Do you want to get treatment for your wound?
 - * Ask for options for an open-ended question.
 - * "What reasons or circumstances would make you want to make changes to your Estate Plan?"
4. Does the client appreciate the nature of his/her own situation?
 - * What will happen if you don't get your wound treated?
 - * "What will happen if you keep your Estate Plan as is?"

Technical Assistance Brief

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act: Implications for Adult Protective Services

Candace Heisler, JD

NAPSRC Consultant

Introduction

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA), Public Law 104-191, was enacted to protect the confidentiality of health records and information. The Office for Civil Rights in the United States Department of Health and Human Services is responsible for developing the rules, many of which are contained in the HIPAA "Privacy Rule." (45 CFR 164.500 et seq.)

HIPAA and its Privacy Rule give "covered entities" (those with the health care data) discretion to comply with requests for release of protected health records, while attempting to balance patient privacy and confidentiality with those with a need to know the content of such records. HIPAA is intended to "assure that individuals' health information is properly protected while allowing the flow of health information needed to provide and promote high quality health care and to protect the public's health and well-being. The Rule strikes a balance that permits important uses of information, while protecting the privacy of people who seek care and healing." (Office for Civil Rights, 2003, p. 3).

HIPAA's complexity can lead to conflict between entities that hold confidential health records and agencies such as Adult Protective Services and law enforcement that investigate allegations of abuse.

About the National Adult Protective Services Resource Center (NAPSRC)

The National Adult Protective Services Resource Center (NAPSRC) is a project (No. 90ER0003) of the Administration for Community Living, U.S. Administration on Aging, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), administered by the National Adult Protective Services Association (NAPSA). Grantees carrying out projects under government sponsorship are encouraged to express freely their findings and conclusions. Therefore, points of view or opinions do not necessarily represent official Administration on Aging or DHHS policy.

The National Adult Protective Services Resource Center (NAPSRC) provides monthly Technical Assistance (TA) calls on subjects requested by the field. Our team of adult protective services (APS) experts provides this national TA to state APS administrators. This brief summarizes the information provided during the May 2015 call.

HIPAA protects individually identifiable health information held or transmitted electronically by a covered entity or its business associate, in any form or media, whether electronic, written, or oral. It requires that covered entities protect such information, and except for certain exceptions, requires that if and when a covered entity releases protected health information the entity must notify the patient whose information was released.

Violations of HIPAA rules are subject to civil and criminal penalties. (42 U.S.C. §§1320d-5 and 1320d-6). Actions may be brought by federal and state Attorneys General. For more information refer to the Health and Human Services Health Information Privacy page.

Key Definitions under HIPAA

HIPAA applies to health plans, health care clearinghouses, and all health providers that transmit records in electronic form, whether the provider itself transmits that information or uses a billing service or subcontractor to do so.

In order to understand the Privacy Rule, it is critical to understand the terminology and definitions within HIPAA. Key terms include the following (See 45 CFR 160.103):

- Protected Health Information (PHI) is all “individually identifiable health information held or transmitted by a covered entity or its business associates in any form or media, whether electronic, paper, or oral.”
 - “Individually identifiable health information” is information, including demographic data, that relates to:
 - the individual’s past, present or future physical or mental health or condition,
 - the provision of health care to the individual, or
 - the past, present, or future payment for the provision of health care to the individual, and that identifies the individual, or for which there is a reasonable basis to believe can be used to identify the individual. This information includes many common identifiers (e.g., name, address, birth date, Social Security Number). (Office for Civil Rights, 2003, at pp 5-6).
- Covered Entities include health plans, health care clearinghouses, and health care providers.
 - Health Plans include providers of medical services and entities that pay for the services, including nearly all individual and group plans that provide or pay the cost of medical, dental, and/or vision services, or prescription drugs, as well as HMOs, Medicare and Medicaid insurers, and long term care insurers (other than nursing home fixed indemnity policies).
 - Health Care Providers include “a provider of services, a provider of medical or health services, and any other person or organization who furnishes, bills, or is paid for health care in the normal course of business,” and who transmits health information in electronic form.
 - Health Care Clearinghouses process or assist in processing health information received from another entity, including billing and repricing companies. They are included in the Privacy Rule only when using and/or disclosing identifiable health information.

Is APS a “Covered Entity”?

Careful thought should be given to whether there are any circumstances in which an APS agency could be considered a covered entity.

Given the array of actions undertaken by APS, careful thought should be given to whether there are any circumstances in which an APS agency could be considered a covered entity. For example, does APS employ health professionals, and if so, for what purposes? Do they review medical records, conduct medical or cognitive assessments, or treat client medical conditions? How do they record their findings? Are their services billed and if so, to what entity?

There is no simple answer to this determination. APS managers should review the role of such employees with their legal advisors for clarification. If deemed a covered entity, APS is subject to many standards and requirements.

The Privacy Rule

A “covered entity” may not use or disclose protected health information (PHI) except in accordance with the Privacy Rule and/or as authorized in writing by the individual whose information is used or disclosed. (45 CFR 164.502(a)). The Privacy Rule requires that a Covered entity disclose PHI in two situations:

- To the United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) when HHS is conducting a compliance investigation or review or enforcement action; and
- To the individual or their personal representative when they request access to or an accounting of disclosures of their PHI (45 CFR 164.508).

A covered entity must obtain the individual’s written authorization for any use or disclosure of PHI that is not for treatment, payment or health care operations or otherwise permitted or required by the Privacy Rule (45 CFR 164.508).

Authorizations must be in plain language and contain specific information about the information to be disclosed or used, the person or persons disclosing and receiving the PHI, expiration, right to revoke, and other data. The person giving consent is entitled to a copy of the authorization form. (45 CFR 164.508).

The easiest way for APS to obtain PHI is with client informed consent. To do so requires that the individual be capable of giving legal consent and have decision-making capacity. If an individual has a surrogate decision-maker (such as an agent or attorney-in-fact under a power of attorney for health care decisions or a guardian or conservator with similar authority) that person can give consent for a client who lacks capacity to consent.

If there is a doubt about the client’s capacity to consent APS should not seek the client’s consent. Not only is relying on consent in such circumstances improper, it may undermine a civil law action or criminal prosecution.

HIPAA requires that the covered entity treat an individual’s personal representative the same as the entity would treat the individual as to access to, and accountings about, release(s) of PHI. A personal representative is defined as a person legally authorized to make health care decisions for the individual or to act on behalf of the decedent or estate. “The Privacy Rule permits an exception when a covered entity has a reasonable belief that the personal representative may be abusing or neglecting the individual or that treating the person as the personal representative could otherwise endanger the individual” (Office for Civil Rights 2003, p. 16).

Situations in which the duty to provide access and accountings of disclosures does not apply include:

- When a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the access requested is likely to endanger the life or physical safety of the individual or another person;
- The PHI makes reference to another person other than a health care provider, and the access requested is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to such person; or
- The request for access is made by the individual’s personal representative and providing such access to the personal representative is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to the individual or another person (45 CFR 164.524).

The person denied access has a right to have the denial reviewed by a licensed health professional who is designated by the covered entity and did not participate in the initial denial decision.

Situations in which the duty to provide access and accountings of disclosures does not apply include:

- When a licensed health care professional has determined, in the exercise of professional judgment, that the access requested is likely to endanger the life or physical safety of the individual or another person;
- The PHI makes reference to another person other than a health care provider, and the access requested is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to such person; or
- The request for access is made by the individual’s personal representative and providing such access to the personal representative is reasonably likely to cause substantial harm to the individual or another person (45 CFR 164.524).

If APS is conducting an investigation that identifies an alleged perpetrator who is also the individual's personal representative, APS may want to consider if they should share concerns about release of PHI to that personal representative. APS cannot make the decision to grant or deny access for the covered entity but can provide important information that may assist the entity in deciding how to proceed with requests for release of PHI.

A covered entity is permitted but not required to disclose PHI without providing the individual an opportunity to agree or object for the covered entity's own treatment, payment, and health care operations. However, virtually any use and/or disclosure of psychotherapy notes for treatment, payment, and health care operations requires the individual's authorization (45 CFR 164.508(a)(2)).

Finally, a covered entity must make reasonable efforts to limit disclosures to the minimum amount of PHI necessary to accomplish the intended purpose of the use, disclosure or request (45 CFR 164.502(b); 164.514(d)). An entire medical record cannot be provided unless it is the minimum necessary to accomplish the purpose of the request.

The minimum necessary standard does not apply to several situations including:

- Disclosure to the individual who is the subject of the information or their personal representative
- Use or disclosure subject to authorization (e.g., court order, subpoena, or search warrant)
- Use or disclosure is required by law (45 CFR 164.512(a); 45 CFR 164.502(b)(2)(v)), (e.g., mandatory elder or vulnerable adult reporting law, duty to warn situations).

Although the minimum necessary standard may not be applicable to an APS request for PHI, covered entities may nevertheless attempt to limit disclosures to the minimum necessary in the "spirit and purpose of HIPAA" and may be unaware that APS may be exempted from minimum necessary requirements.

Psychotherapy Notes

"Psychotherapy notes" are treated differently from other mental health information and afforded special privacy protections because of their sensitive content. Such notes are recorded by a mental health professional providing health care that document or analyze conversations during counseling sessions and are separate from the rest of the patient's medical record. (45 CFR 164.501).

A covered entity must obtain a patient's authorization prior to a disclosure of psychotherapy notes except when disclosures are required by law such as mandatory reporting of abuse and duty to warn situations. A general consent for release of all health care or medical records is not sufficient for disclosure of psychotherapy notes. It is suggested that authorization for disclosure of PHI (medical records) should be on a separate form from authorization for disclosure of psychotherapy records. (45 CFR 164.508(a)(2)). More information is available at HIPAA Privacy Rule and Sharing Information Related to Mental Health and HIPAA Privacy Rule.

Mental health clinicians generally prefer to converse with other professionals seeking information regarding psychotherapy notes (including investigating APS workers) to answer specific questions rather than turn over copies of notes. The APS worker will still need written authorization from the client to obtain this information. That conversation may in fact be more helpful than the notes themselves. If such notes become relevant in a court matter they can be subpoenaed.

Disclosures: How APS Obtains PHI

The Privacy Rule permits use and disclosure of PHI without an individual's authorization or consent for 12 national priority purposes (45 CFR 164.512). These are permitted disclosures "in recognition of the important uses made of health information outside of the health care context"; they are not mandated (Office for Civil Rights, 2003, at p. 6). Those most relevant to APS practice are:

- Required by Law
- Victims of Abuse, Neglect, or Domestic Violence
- Judicial and Administrative Hearings
- Serious Threat to Health or Safety

“Required by law”: covered entities may use and disclose PHI without the individual’s consent when there is a relevant statute, regulation, or court order. (45 CFR 164.512 (a)).

“Victims of Abuse, Neglect, or Domestic Violence”: covered entities may use and disclose PHI to appropriate governmental agencies regarding such victims. These include situations in which there is mandatory reporting of child, elder or vulnerable adult abuse or domestic violence, as well as situations in which persons must report violent crime victimizations or the duty to warn (protect) of a credible threat directed to or at an identifiable target. (See, e.g., Tarasoff v. Regents of the University of California (1976) 17 Cal. 3d 425, 131 Cal. Rptr. 14, 551 P.2d 334)(45 CFR 164.512(c)(1)(i)).

The duty to warn/protect authorizes a covered entity to disclose PHI, including information from mental health records. The Privacy Rule permits a provider who has a good faith belief that a warning is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to the health or safety of the patient or others, to alert persons reasonably believed to be able to prevent or lessen the threat (45 CFR 164.512(j)). The client is entitled to notice. (45 CFR 164.512(c)(2); 164.512 (c) (1) (ii)(B)). For more information, please refer to the HHS Health Information Privacy page.

Judicial and Administrative Proceedings: Covered entities may disclose PHI in such a proceeding when the request for PHI is through a court or administrative tribunal order, a subpoena, or other lawful process (45 CFR 164.512(f)(1)(ii)(A)-(B)-(C)). If APS cannot obtain PHI by request, it may need to seek a court or administrative order.

Serious Threat to Health or Safety: Covered entities may disclose PHI when necessary to limit/prevent a serious and imminent threat to a person or the public, to an entity able to address the threat, or to apprehend an escapee or violent criminal. (45 CFR 164.512(j)).

Application to APS Practice

HIPAA permits, but does not require, covered entities to comply with requests for PHI. A covered entity may violate a state law about disclosure of PHI disclosure without violating HIPAA. Therefore, APS officials must know the precise statutory requirements under which APS has authority to seek PHI.

APS should always seek written consent from a client to obtain PHI if that client’s capacity to understand and grant informed consent is not in question. If there is a concern about the client’s capacity then APS should seek assistance from appropriate experts to assess the client’s capacity. If the client clearly cannot give informed consent, a personal representative who is not suspected of abuse, neglect or exploitation can give informed consent on behalf of the client. If there is no appropriate representative, APS can seek the appointment of a representative such as a temporary guardian or conservator or a guardian ad litem, depending on local statutes.

APS workers seeking client consent for disclosure of PHI are urged to assure that:

- the client understands that you, the APS worker, will request disclosure and use of the client’s PHI held by the covered entity,
- the client understands the nature of the information being sought,
- the client understands the included time frame (previous date to present or a specific ending date),
- the client has the right to revoke the authorization in writing at any time (45 CFR 164.508; 164.532).

Of course, the APS worker must also insure that the client is informed and understands that he or she has the right to deny access to PHI.

APS should assure that authorizations:

- are written in plain language and large font,
- specifically describe the information to be disclosed and used,
- provide the identity of persons disclosing and receiving the PHI,
- include the date the authorization expires, and
- inform the client of the right to revoke their informed consent (45 CFR 164.508).

It is suggested that forms be translated into languages commonly used in the community other than English.

APS managers may want to review existing authorization forms and assure that they comply with HIPAA legal requirements.

APS requests for PHI should describe what is sought in clear terms. Avoid open-ended and generic requests that may be interpreted as a request for the entire record unless that is actually required. An example of a specific request is: “all records of medical treatment, nursing notes, consultations, prescriptions, and diagnosis for Mary Jones, DOB, medical record number, relating to her treatment for trauma (or neglect or suspected abuse) for the period XX to YY”.

The presence of a legal basis for seeking records under a state law, regulation, or court order does not mean that APS will receive what it has requested. A covered entity may be justifiably concerned about providing too much information and running afoul of HIPAA. APS can enhance its success in obtaining medical information by more precisely defining what it seeks, limiting requests to specific events and dates, and obtaining written authorization from the client or the client’s legal representative.

Building strong and positive relationships with covered entities and assuring that they understand the role and legal authority of APS is critical to minimizing conflict and assuring maximum compliance with requests for records. APS can request additional or other PHI at later points in their investigation. A covered entity may continue to disclose to governmental authorities throughout the duration of an investigation (45 CFR 164.512 (b); (c); Campanelli, 2004).

If APS requests are not subject to the “minimum necessary” rule, the request for PHI should clearly state so. It is suggested that the request describe how the request is authorized by law by referencing applicable statutes or regulations.

Language such as “This is a disclosure required by law, specifically: (name of law and statute number/reference), and is therefore not subject to the minimum necessary requirement” may be helpful. In addition, consider attaching a copy of the law to the request if there are concerns about compliance.

In addition the request for disclosure should include the following language: “The information sought is relevant and material, specific, and limited in scope, and de-identifiable information cannot be used.” (See 45 CFR 164.512(f)(1)(ii)(C).) APS management may want to have legal counsel prepare a form with legal and helpful information to use for such requests for disclosure.

Once APS has received PHI it must treat records as confidential and not disclose them without legal or statutory authority, and only to those authorized to receive them. APS management should assure that policies are in place describing how the confidential nature of PHI will be protected.

State vs. Federal Laws

In general state laws contrary to HIPAA and its Privacy Rule are pre-empted by federal law. “Contrary to federal law” means that it would be impossible for a covered entity to comply with both state and federal requirements, or that the state law is an obstacle to accomplishing the purpose and objectives of HIPAA. (Office for Civil Rights, 2003 at p. 17). The Privacy Rule provides exceptions to the general rule of federal preemption for state laws that:

- Relate to the privacy of individually identifiable health information and provide greater privacy protections or privacy rights with respect to such PHI
- Provide for the reporting of disease or injury, child abuse, birth, or death, or for public health surveillance, investigation, or intervention... (Office for Civil Rights, 2003 at p. 17; 45 CFR 160.202 and 203).

In light of this guidance there is no conflict between elder and vulnerable adult reporting laws and HIPAA. When state or other law authorizes such reports be made to APS and directs that APS conduct investigations which include obtaining medical and other health records subject to HIPAA, a covered entity can comply with the state or other requirement and comply with HIPAA.

One example of where there could be seeming conflict between the Privacy Rule and state reporting laws concerns disclosure of the identity of the reporter to APS. State laws typically require that the name of the reporter be kept confidential and not disclosed except under specific circumstances such as consent of the reporter or pursuant to a court order or to rules of criminal discovery if a case is criminally prosecuted. (See, e.g., MN Stats. 626.557, subd. 12b).

HIPAA authorizes an individual or their personal representative to receive an accounting of disclosures which would likely include the identity of the reporter. (See 45 CFR 164.502(g) and 164.528(a)). Can these apparent conflicts be resolved?

The answer is “yes.” The Privacy Rule permits a covered entity to refrain from telling an individual or their personal representative that a report to APS has been made if the notification would place the individual at risk of serious harm or would not be in their best interest. A covered entity can decline to provide an accounting to a personal representative if it reasonably believes that the representative is an abuser or that providing the accounting could endanger the individual. (45 CFR 164.502(g)(5)). Additionally, the covered entity can suspend an accounting for a period of time when the disclosure is to law enforcement or a health oversight entity for whatever period is specified by the agency if the accounting is reasonably likely to impede the agency’s efforts (45 CFR 164.528(a)(2)). Finally, the Privacy Rule does not actually require that the covered entity release the name of the reporter. Instead, the covered entity can limit its accounting to the date of disclosure, the recipient of the information, the purpose of the disclosure, and a brief description of the information disclosed (Campenelli, 2004, p. 3).

Conclusion

HIPAA is complex and APS should exercise caution when obtaining client informed consent, requesting PHI, and maintaining the confidentiality of records once received from a covered entity.

It is suggested that APS agencies have clear policies and protocols for compliance with HIPAA and relevant state laws and regulations and that staff receive training on the Privacy Rule, state laws, and policies and protocols. The better these requirements are understood and applied, the better staff will be equipped to work effectively with clients, covered entities, courts, and allied professionals.

There is no conflict between elder and vulnerable adult reporting laws and HIPAA. When state or other law authorizes such reports be made to APS and directs that APS conduct investigations which include obtaining medical and other health records subject to HIPAA, a covered entity can comply with the state or other requirement and comply with HIPAA.
